HISTORY OF ATLANTA HAWKS

When the news came on May 3, 1968, that the St. Louis Hawks of the National Basketball Association were moving to Atlanta, Ga., it caught the sports world by surprise.

Skeptics viewed the move as suicidal for new owners Thomas G. Cousins and former Governor Carl Sanders. First, Atlanta had no facility for pro basketball, and secondly, the area was a hotbed of football. "Not room for both," many commented.

The critics now have become fans.

Atlanta has become firmly established as a sound franchise in the NBA and firmly entrenched in the city.

Cousins and Sanders first received permission from Georgia Tech to play the Hawks' home games in Alexander Memorial Coliseum until a new arena could be constructed.

That arena is now under construction and next year the Hawks will move into their new home, a 16,500-seat structure second to none in the country. Pro basketball, indeed, has made inroads into the sports life of Georgians.

From the beginning on May 3, 1968, the Hawks have moved steadily upward and onward in attendance. Slightly more than 5,000 sat in on the Hawks' opening game against Cincinnati on Oct. 15, 1968. A capacity crowd of 7,192, with thousands more turned away, saw last year's season finale against New York in the playoffs.

Attendance has been on the rise. From 178,979 in 1968-69 to 202,847 in 1969-70 to last year's 245,599. There were no sellouts the first year, three the second and 13 last year. That's progress.

Since the beginning in 1968, Sanders bowed out as co-owner and Tom Cousins' younger brother, Bob, bought into the club and became its president. Under his guidance, the Hawks became more involved in civic activities and have become one of the leaders in the business community.

On the floor, the Hawks have had their ups and downs. That first year saw the Hawks finish second to Los Angeles in the Western Division both in the regular season and playoffs.

The next year, Atlanta had an identical 48-34 record and won the regular season Western Division title before bowing to the Lakers in the playoffs.

It was during the off season before the 1970-71 season that the Hawks surrendered their NBA rights to Zelmo Beaty, who had jumped to the rival ABA, to San Francisco for their No. 1 draft choice.

That turned out to be Pistol Pete Maravich, college basketball's all-time leading scorer and No. 1 draw.

All the news was not good, however, as Joe Caldwell followed Beaty into the ABA, jumping to the Carolina Cougars.

Atlanta started slowly and did not move into playoff contention until late February, finally finishing second in the Central Division with a record of 36-46, the Hawks' worst mark since 1960-61.

The season came to an abrupt halt when the Hawks lost in the opening round of the playoffs to the New York Knicks in five games.

In the past the Hawks, be they the Milwaukee or St. Louis variety, had their share of stars. It holds true today with the likes of Pete Maravich, Lou Hudson, Bill Bridges and Walt Bellamy.

The past has been bright. The future looks brighter.

THOMAS G. COUSINS

Co-Owner, Chairman of Board and Treasurer

Thomas G. Cousins is the 39-year-old Chairman of the Board of Cousins Properties Incorporated. He has been associated with the real estate industry since 1954.

Following graduation from the University of Georgia in 1952 with a major in finance, he served in the U. S. Air Force and later joined Knox Homes Corporation, where he attained the position of Vice President of Sales.

He formed Cousins Properties, Inc., in 1958 with capitalization of $3,000 and has directed its growth since that time, as President and Chairman of the Board. In July of 1970, he relinquished the former position. CPI is now a completely diversified real estate development and investment company with assets in excess of $46 million. Its operations, while centered in the Southeast, also extend into the New England area.

In addition to his responsibilities as Chairman of the Board of CPI, Mr. Cousins is a Trustee and Chairman of Cousins Mortgage and Equity Investments. He serves on the Board of Trustees, Rockefeller University; Board of Trustees, Atlanta Arts Alliance; Board of Directors, Commerce Club of Atlanta; Board of Directors, Atlanta Chamber of Commerce; Atlanta Advisory Board of the Citizens and Southern Bank; Executive Committee, Central Atlanta Progress, Inc.; Men's Advisory Committee, High Museum of Art, Atlanta; and is a member of the Young Presidents' Organization. He also is co-owner of the Atlanta Hawks Basketball Club.

Mr. Cousins became the principal owner of the Hawks in May of 1968 after the purchase of the St. Louis Hawks.

He is married to the former Ann Draughon and they have three children, Caroline, Lillian and Tommy. He is a member of the North Avenue Presbyterian Church in Atlanta.

ROBERT W. COUSINS

Co-Owner and President

Bob Cousins became president of the Atlanta Hawks on April 27, 1970, and at 31 is the youngest top executive in the National Basketball Association.

Prior to joining the Hawks and becoming a part owner with brother Tom, Bob was a successful real estate executive with the Adams-Cates Co. In four years with that company he recorded over $5 million in commercial real estate transactions.

If pro basketball was new to him, it didn't dim his enthusiasm for a new challenge. He has moved the Hawks forward in the community and on the basketball floor.

Cousins' interests are not basketball alone. He is involved in countless civic-oriented efforts, spanning the spectrum from low-income recreational programs to fund raising to poverty area small business development.

He is a member of the Atlanta Amateur Football League committee, Atlanta Crime Commission, Fellowship of Christian Athletes, Chairman of 70-71 Leukemia Drive and its permanent funds chairman, Board of Directors of Model Cities Housing Development, Honorary Chairman of Georgia Olympic Committee, Board of Directors Atlanta City Club, Board of Directors Georgia Athletic Hall of Fame.

He also is a member of the NBA's Players Association Negotiating Committee.

A graduate of the University of Georgia, Cousins served in the Marine Corps as infantry platoon leader and later as company commander in the Fleet Marine Force.

Cousins is married to the former Nancy Cotton of Decatur and they have two children, Connie and Chrissie. He is a Deacon of the North Avenue Presbyterian Church.

RICHIE GUERIN

Coach

It is not without justification that Richie Guerin is called "one of the finest coaches in the National Basketball Association."

Guerin is the dean of coaches in the league and begins his eighth year as coach of the Hawks. This past spring, a handshake with President Bob Cousins assured Guerin of "coaching the Hawks as long as he'd like."

In seven seasons as head man of the Hawks, Guerin has posted a regular season record of 291 victories, 244 losses. In playoffs, the Hawks are 24-30 under Guerin. Twice his teams won Western Division titles, in 1968 and 1970.

The mod Guerin started his pro career with the New York Knicks, playing in six all-star games. He was named to the All-NBA team three times. In 1961-62, Guerin became the first guard in league history to score 2,000 points when he hit for 2,303.

Richie holds eight Knick records—points in a season (2,303); average (29.5); assists in one game (21); points in one game (57); field goals (23); field goals attempted (36); free throws made (22); free throws attempted (29).

Guerin was traded to the St. Louis Hawks in 1963 for cash and a second-round draft choice. He was named Hawks coach early in the 1964-65 season, replacing Harry Gallatin. The date was December 17, 1964.

The fiery New York native served as player-coach of the Hawks through the 1969-70 season and few will forget his final game on the court. It came against the Los Angeles Lakers in the fifth game of the 1970 playoffs. Playing 37 minutes, he scored 31 points, just one point shy of his career playoff high.

Guerin played collegiately at Iona College, a 6-4 center. He turned to guard while serving in the Marine Corps.

Richie and his lovely wife Pat make their home in Atlanta and they have four children, Patti Ann, Kerry Ann, Richie and Cathy.

During the off season, Richie runs the very popular Richie Guerin Basketball Camp at Woodward Academy in College Park.

GENE TORMOHLEN

As director of scouting, Gene Tormohlen is the man on the hot seat every March when the NBA holds its college draft.

"The Bumper" spends from September through November serving as Coach Richie Guerin's right-hand man on the Hawks bench. From December through March, he travels thousands of miles scouting college basketball players.

He has the background for both jobs. Tormohlen played five years in the NBA, all with the Hawks, and earned the reputation as one of the roughest rebounders in the league. Hence the nickname "Bumper".

The former University of Tennessee all-America began his pro career in the old American Basketball League with Kansas City. He joined the Hawks in 1962 when the ABL folded.

Gene also is considered one of the fine teachers in the game and serves as Guerin's assistant in the Richie Guerin Basketball Camps. He is married to the former Julie Stafford and they have two children, Gina and Tommy.

IRV GACK

Business Manager

Irv Gack is the business manager of the Atlanta Hawks. That's what he gets paid for, but Gack is more. He is No. 1 fan, scout and critic-at-large of NBA officials.

Gack moved with the club from St. Louis in 1968 and is beginning his 17th year with the Hawks. He joined the Hawks in 1954 when the club moved from Minneapolis. He was named business manager in 1958.

Irv holds the dubious honor of being one of the few front office people to be slapped with a technical foul while offering an official "constructive criticism" during a Hawks game.

A native of New York City, he is married to the former Blanche Shenker, and they have three children, Alan, Michelle and Bruce.

SKIP CARAY

Voice of Hawks and Broadcasting Director

"Hello, again, everybody, this is Skip Caray, bringing you another night of exciting Atlanta Hawks basketball."

With that line, the Voice of the Hawks Skip Caray has started more than 300 broadcasts since moving with the Hawks from St. Louis in 1968. Counting one year in St. Louis, Caray now begins his fifth season as the Hawks play-by-play announcer.

Caray was so good at his job this past season, he was voted Georgia's Broadcaster of the Year, and the 32-year-old graduate of the University of Missouri is generally regarded as one of the top three announcers in the NBA.

Skip began his broadcast career while at Missouri, doing University of Missouri football and St. Louis University basketball. He is former assistant sports director of station KMOX in St. Louis, one of the nation's most powerful stations.

Caray is an honor graduate of the Missouri School of Journalism and in 1964 and 1965 did Atlanta Cracker games from old Ponce de Leon Park.

Caray also serves as the Hawks Director of Broadcasting and does a nightly sports show on WQXI-TV in Atlanta.

Skip, in addition to his duties with the Hawks and free-lance ventures, finds time to take part in civic activities, serving last year as Chairman for the General Fund Drive of Epilepsy Georgia and is manager of the Hawks team in the North DeKalb Tee League.

Noted as one of the Southeast's best public speakers, Caray also is spreading Hawks gospel throughout the South from various podiums.

JOE O'TOOLE

Trainer

To a man, members of the Atlanta Hawks consider Joe O'Toole the finest trainer in the NBA.

The popular O'Toole is one of the unsung heroes of the Hawks. He is given credit for keeping the Hawks in excellent playing condition. Last year, only Pete Maravich and Lou Hudson missed games due to injuries. Maravich missed one game, Hudson three.

O'Toole, now starting his third year with the Hawks, came to Atlanta from the University of Wisconsin where he was assistant trainer. He received his Bachelor's Degree from Cortland State, gained a physical therapist certificate from Mayo Clinic and received his Masters from Indiana University.

Joe is a native of Waverly, N. Y., and is married to the former Rosemary Little. They have three children, Andy, Molly and Maura.

TOM McCOLLISTER

Director Public Relations

The man charged with publicity, public relations and promoting, McCollister begins his third year with the Hawks.

He joined the Hawks front office in 1969 after an 11-year career in the newspaper field, the last four as assistant sports editor of The Atlanta Journal.

Prior to his coming to Atlanta, McCollister worked on the sports staffs of The Dothan, Ala. Eagle, Birmingham News and Jacksonville Journal. He also spent one year as assistant public information director at Mississippi State University.

McCollister attended the University of Alabama and is a native of Montgomery, Ala.

He is married to the former Gwyn Allbritten of Birmingham and they have three children, Johnny, Ken and Kristie.

MIKE BENTLEY

Publicity Assistant

Mike is the newest member of the Hawks front office, serving as publicity assistant.

Prior to joining the Hawks, Bentley was sports editor of the Neighbor Newspapers and former sports editor of the DeKalb New Era. He is a 1968 graduate of Walker High School.

The 21-year-old Bentley is secretary of the DeKalb Community Relations Commission and immediate past state chairman of the Georgia Youth Council.

Bentley is single.

WALT BELLAMY

AGE: 32

HEIGHT: 6-11

WEIGHT: 245

BIRTHDATE: July 24, 1939, New Bern, N. C.

COLLEGE: Indiana '61

HOW OBTAINED: From Detroit for players to be named later, Feb. 1, 1970.

Walt Bellamy keeps on keeping on in the National Basketball Association, and now has moved into sight of the coveted 20,000-point plateau.

The Big Bell may not reach that goal during this season, though the Hawks wish he would, but he's sure to gain ground on the leaders in all categories in his 11th year in the NBA.

Bellamy came to the Hawks in mid-1970 and led Atlanta to the Western Division championship. His steady play last year carried the Hawks into the playoffs where he outplayed Willis Reed of New York in the five-game series.

Walt now ranks fourth all-time in rebounding, ninth in scoring, seventh in free throws attempted, second in field goal accuracy, sixth in minutes played, eighth in scoring average and seventh in field goals made.

In 1970-71, Bells played in all Hawks games, scored 1,202 points for a 14.6 average and pulled down 1,060 rebounds. His .493 field goal percentage led the Hawks, but for the first time in his career he fell below .500.

Bellamy, his wife Helen and four-year-old son Darren make their home in Atlanta.

BILL BRIDGES

AGE: 32

HEIGHT: 6-6

WEIGHT: 235

BIRTHDATE: April 4, 1939, Hobbs, N. M.

COLLEGE: Kansas '61

HOW OBTAINED: Draft rights traded by Chicago (Baltimore) to St. Louis for Al Ferrari and Shellie McMillon, June 14, 1962.

Captain Bill Bridges starts his 10th season with the Hawks and he will have to be regarded as the best bargain in pro sports.

Bridges was one of the top scorers in the old American Basketball League when the Hawks acquired him in 1962. The Hawks traded Al Ferrari and Shellie Millon to the Chicago Zephyrs for the draft rights to Bridges.

Ferrari and Millon have long since disappeared from NBA rosters while Bill is an NBA superstar.

Bridges, one of the most feared rebounders in the league, had his fifth straight 1,000-plus boards last year with 1,233, the best of his career. In fact, Bridges is only 1,534 rebounds away from the magic 10,000 mark.

In the playoffs last year against New York, Bridges set a Hawks record for rebounds in a game with 36. He finished sixth in the league with 15 boards per game and is fifth all time in rebounds in playoffs with 1,068.

During the off season, Bridges directed the City of Atlanta's pro-college basketball league and worked in hard-core areas with boys and girls on a Big Brother basis.

BOB CHRISTIANAGE: 27HEIGHT: 7-0WEIGHT: 268BIRTHDATE: May 11, 1944, Dallas, TexasCOLLEGE: Grambling '69HOW OBTAINED: No. 8 draft choice 1969.

What Bob Christian lacks in experience, he makes up for in hustle, desire and dedication. When he gets the experience to go with these ingredients, watch out.

Big Bob impressed one and all last year with his rebounding strength and aggressiveness, two items that earned him starting roles in several games.

Christian originally was drafted by the Hawks in 1969, but signed with the ABA. He was cut by the Dallas team, went into the Eastern League before making it to the big time last season.

The 7-0, 260-pounder is extremely fast for a big man. In 54 games last season, Christian scored 154 points and grabbed 177 rebounds.

Christian is married and makes his home in Dallas, Texas, where his wife teaches school. During the off season, Bob worked in construction.

Shaler Halimon became an Atlanta Hawk on July 23, 1971, via waivers from Portland.

The 6-6 former Utah State star was the No. 1 draft choice of the Philadelphia 76ers in 1968, was traded to the Chicago Bulls along with Chet Walker in 1969 and went to Portland last year for a second round draft choice.

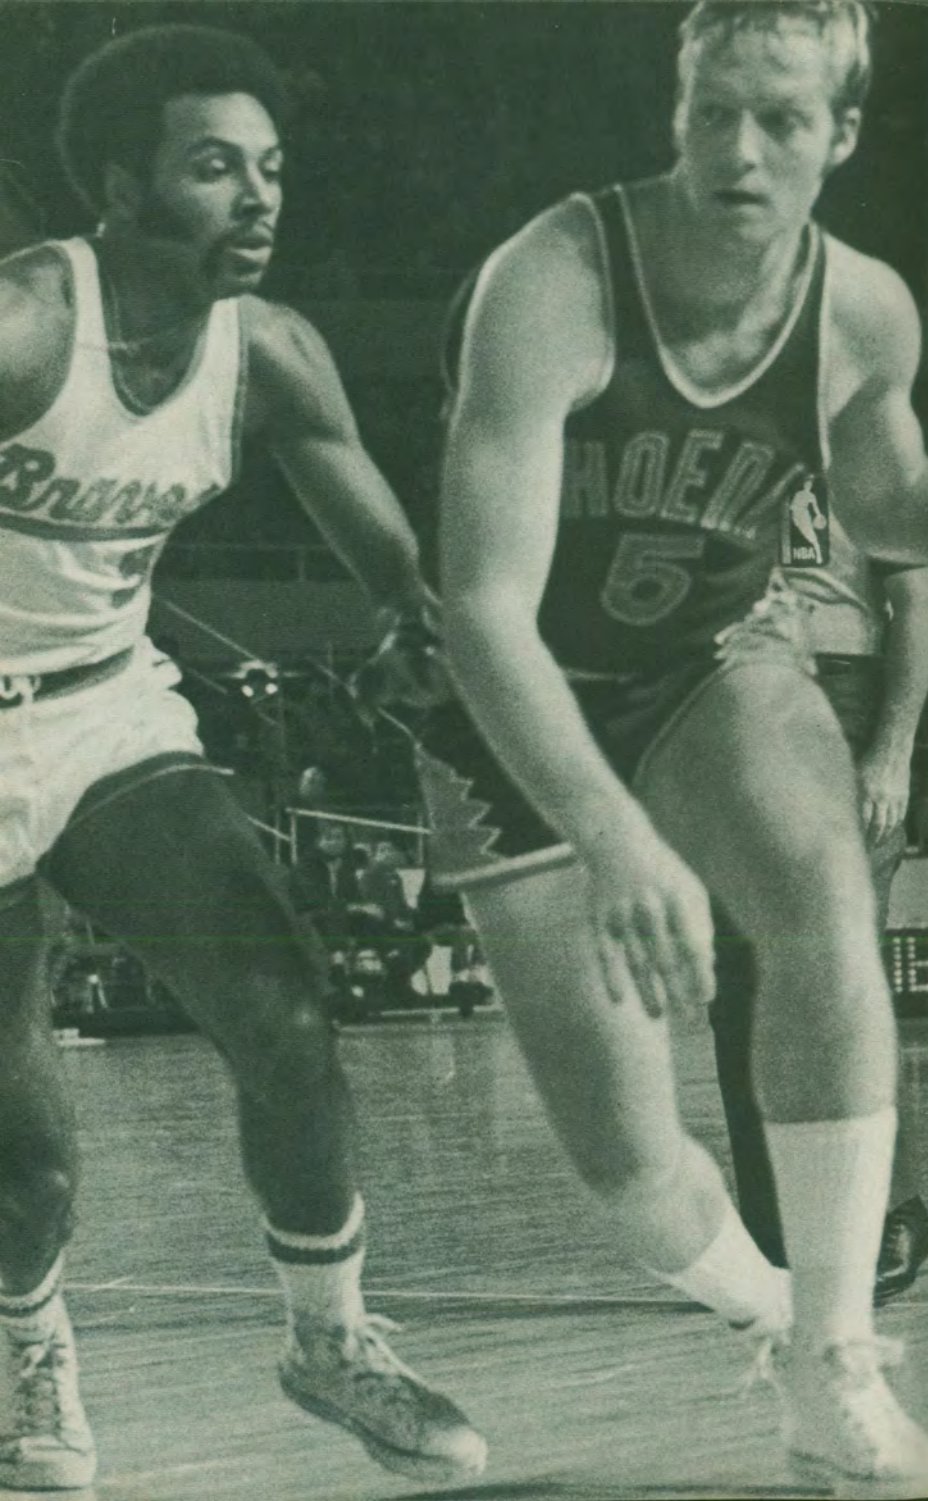

In three years in the NBA, Halimon has played forward and guard and shows a career scoring average of 6.7 points per game. With Portland, he was an 8.8 scorer.

3*HERM GILLIAM*AGE: 25*HEIGHT: 6-3*WEIGHT: 190*BIRTHDATE: May 5, 1946, Winston-Salem, N. C.*COLLEGE: Purdue '69

HOW OBTAINED: Traded from Buffalo with Don May for Walt Hazzard and Jerry Chambers July 23, 1971.

Herm Gilliam almost became an Atlanta Hawk three years ago in the college draft. Cincinnati, picking just ahead of the Hawks, grabbed the 6-3 Purdue guard in the first round and Atlanta picked Butch Beard of Louisville.

Considered a sound player, Gilliam started on and off for the Royals in his rookie year, but missed 25 games due to military obligations and injuries. He was picked by Buffalo in the expansion draft a year ago.

Gilliam, a native of Winston-Salem, teamed with Rick Mount at Purdue to take the Boilermakers to the NCAA championships in 1969 where they lost to UCLA. Twice he received the college's MVP award and Lambert Scholarship Trophy.

Herm is an outstanding rebounder for a man 6-3. He was Purdue's leading rebounder his senior year and grabbed 334 last year at Buffalo. Offensively, Gilliam is an excellent ball-handler and playmaker. He scored 898 points last season, averaging 11.2 per game.

In Buffalo's lone victory over the Hawks last year, Gilliam was the leading man. He hit on 9 of 13 shots and scored 19 points in 19 minutes. In the final meeting, he scored 20 points, hitting nine of 14 from the floor.

Gilliam, in three seasons at Purdue, scored 1,118 points for a 15.9 average and finished as the school's fifth all-time scorer. He also was the team's co-captain two years.

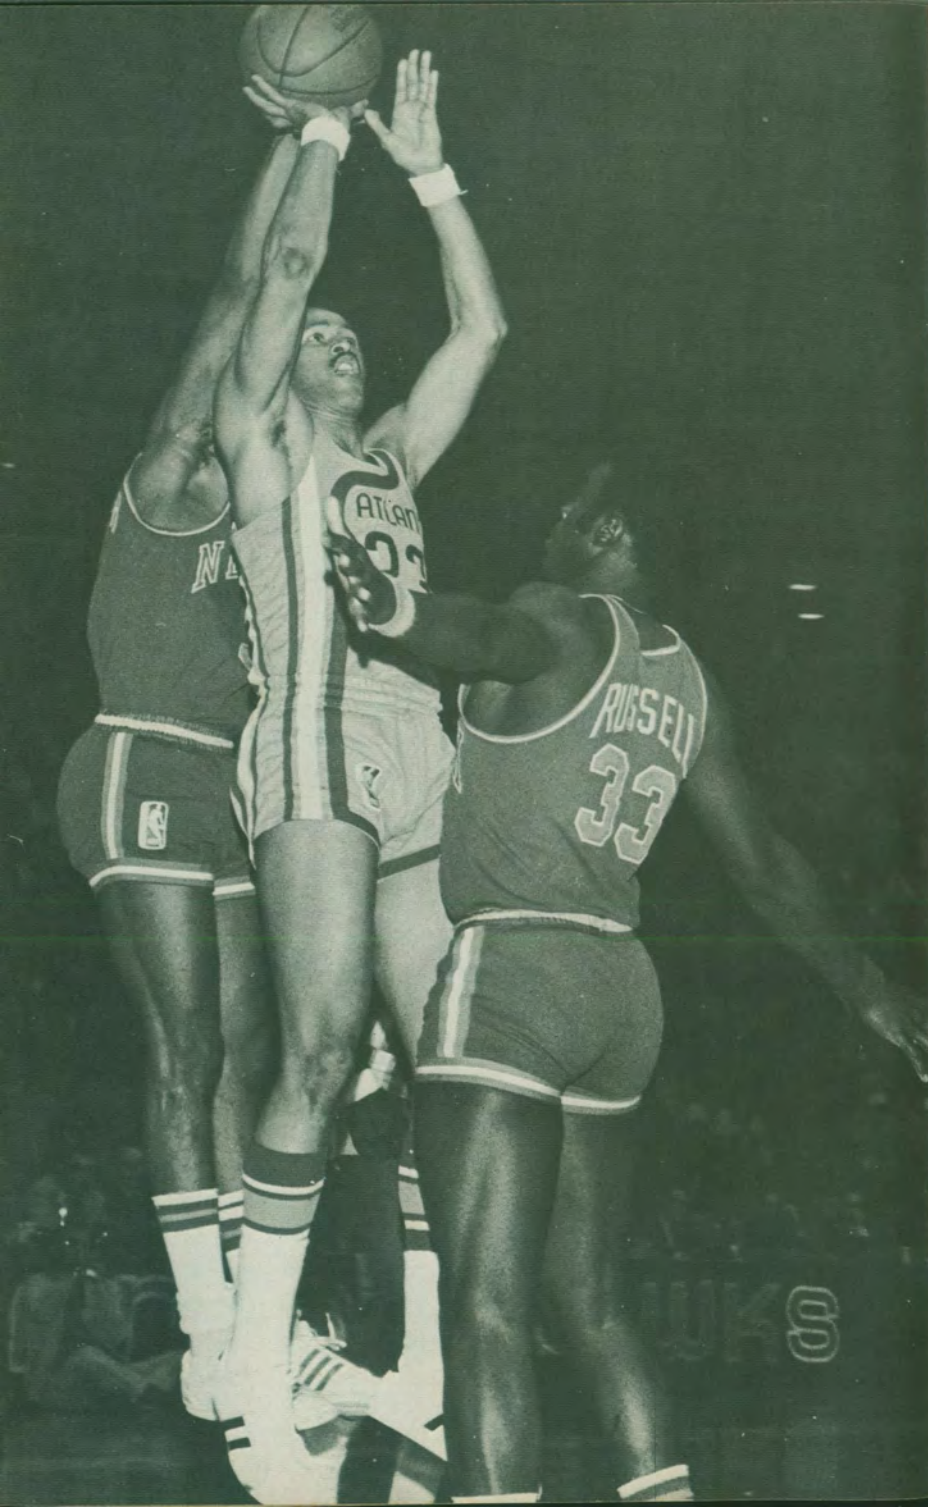

Herm is married.

LOU HUDSON

AGE: 27

HEIGHT: 6-5

WEIGHT: 215

BIRTHDATE: July 11, 1944, Greensboro, N. C.

COLLEGE: Minnesota '66

HOW OBTAINED: No. 1 draft choice 1966.

If there was one consistent thing about the 1970-71 Atlanta Hawks, it was Lou Hudson.

In a season that saw the Hawks get away slowly and flounder until late in the season, Hudson always was there with his 20-plus points and steady defensive play.

For the record, Hudson scored 2,039 points (a career high), averaged 26.8 (best in Hawks history) and attempted 1,713 field goals (career high and Hawks season high).

And he didn't play in all the games, missing six with a badly bruised finger (3 games) and the death of his father (3 games).

Hudson now ranks fifth all-time in the NBA in field goal percentage, .492, and his 26.8 average was fifth best in the league. His 22 field goals against Portland tied him with Lew Alcindor and Dave Bing in that category for one game.

Hudson was voted by the fans and Boosters Club as the Most Popular Hawk last year, and he was named the team's MVP. In addition, Lou was named to the Top 10 Young People of Atlanta, the first pro athlete so honored.

He is single.

HOW OBTAINED: No. 1 draft choice from San Francisco for rights to Zelmo Beaty 1970.

The season of adjustment is over and Pete Maravich is expected to take his place among the greats in the National Basketball Association in 1971-72.

Maravich had the best season of any rookie in Hawks history last season despite playing under constant pressure. His free-wheeling style of play excited the fans from coast-to-coast as he continued to fill buildings as he did in college.

Pistol Pete finished his rookie season with the second best scoring average on the team (23.2), second in points (1,880), first in free throw percentage, second in assists. He was the league's seventh leading scorer.

Maravich was second in rookie-of-the-year balloting to Boston's Dave Cowens and Portland's Geoff Petrie, but the Pistol was a unanimous choice as a member of the all-rookie team.

During the past season, Maravich served as Chairman of the Education on Smoking Week in Georgia. During the off-season, Pete ran his own basketball camp in California, Pa., and made guest appearances at many other such camps.

The Pistol is single.

AGE: 25*HEIGHT: 6-4*WEIGHT: 215*BIRTHDATE: Jan. 3, 1946, Dayton, Ohio*COLLEGE: Dayton '68

HOW OBTAINED: Traded from Buffalo with Herm Gilliam for Walt Hazzard and Jerry Chambers July 23, 1971.

Don May became an Atlanta Hawk on July 23, 1971, along with teammate Herm Gilliam. The Hawks gave Walt Hazzard and Jerry Chambers for the former Buffalo Braves.

A No. 2 draft choice in 1968, May sat on the New York Knicks bench for two years before going to Buffalo in the expansion draft last year. His career stats until that time showed only a 3.5 average in 85 games.

As a starter last year, May played in 76 games, scored 1,535 points and started living up to the promise he showed when he led Dayton to the NIT championship in 1968. He was an all-American that year and the NIT's Most Valuable Player.

With the Knicks, May was more noted for his part in a Vitalis commercial than anything he did on the floor. He started changing that image in Buffalo.

Despite his size, 6-4, May is a natural forward. He was Buffalo's second leading scorer last year and third-leading rebounder. He's a left-hander and hit on 47 percent of his shots. He grabbed 567 rebounds.

Don is married and makes his home in Dayton in the off season.

Hawks Coach Richie Guerin believes the addition of May will enable Lou Hudson to spend more time at guard next year. May is considered an outstanding outside shooter and is strong going to the basket.

GEORGE TRAPP

AGE: 22

HEIGHT: 6-8½

WEIGHT: 215

BIRTHDATE: Jan. 10, 1949, Detroit, Mich.

COLLEGE: Long Beach State '71

HOW OBTAINED: No. 1 draft choice 1971.

The Hawks top priority in the past college draft was a big man who could run, jump, shoot and handle the ball.

George Trapp of Long Beach State fits the bill.

The 6-8½, 215-pounder from Detroit, Mich., was twice Pacific Coast Athletic Association Player of the Year at Long Beach State, and during his sophomore year at Pasadena City College he was named California's Player of the Year.

His coach, Jerry Tarkanian, says, "George can run, jump and shoot with anyone. He has great moves to the basket and is an excellent passer for a man his size."

Trapp has played only one year at forward, but feels this is his best position. He is a deadly shooter from the outside, averaged 12 rebounds a game his senior year. He scored 550 points last season in 29 games in leading Long Beach to a 24-5 mark.

George is not the only member of the Trapp family in pro basketball. Brother John Q. is a member of the Houston Rockets.

During the off-season, Trapp participated in the summer basketball league in Atlanta and was a counselor at the Richie Guerin Basketball Camp.

The 1970-71 season was one frustration after another for guard John Vallely.

Vallely came off the UCLA campus as captain and No. 1 guard of the Bruins NCAA champions. He was drafted in the first round by the Hawks but saw only limited action in his rookie year.

An exceptional shooter in college, Vallely never found the range in the first season until the final game of the season against Chicago when he scored a season-high 24 points, hitting 11 of 18 attempts.

For the season, Vallely played in 51 games, hit 73 of 204 from the floor for an average of .358, 45 of 59 free throws, 34 rebounds, 47 assists, 50 personal fouls and 191 points for a 3.7 average.

Vallely is married, and he and his lovely wife Karen make their home in Balboa Island, Calif. During the off season, Vallely worked in summer basketball camps in the Northwest.

TOM PAYNEAGE: 20*HEIGHT: 7-2½*WEIGHT: 240*College: University of Kentucky

The tallest man to ever play for the Hawks, Tom Payne was obtained in the NBA's special hardship draft on September 10. Payne played only one year at Kentucky as he played freshman ball for the Lexington AAU team.

During his stay at Kentucky, Payne averaged 16.9 points per game and 10.1 rebounds. His shooting percentage during his sophomore year was 52.3 as he hit 196 of 375 field goals attempted.

Hawks Coach Richie Guerin believes the move for Payne is one that will definitely pay off in the future.

42 JEFF HALLIBURTON

AGE: 22

HEIGHT: 6-5

WEIGHT: 195

BIRTHDATE: July 3, 1949, Eastmeadow, N. Y.

COLLEGE: Drake '71

HOW OBTAINED: No. 3 draft choice 1971.

When the third round of last year's NBA draft rolled around, Hawks scout Gene Tormohlen was heard to utter, "Please, don't let anybody get Jeff before it's our turn."

When it came time for the Hawks to draft, "Jeff" was available, and Tormohlen breathed a deep sigh of relief.

Jeff Halliburton is the Hawks kind of player. He has a lively body, can run, rebound and is a deadly shooter. It's no wonder, then, that Tormohlen was holding his breath.

At Drake, Halliburton had a career average of 17.1 points per game for a team not noted for whopping scoring totals. When Drake needed points, Halliburton was there to get them. He was the only man on the squad allowed to go one-on-one against his opponent.

At 6-5 and 195, Halliburton can play either guard or forward.

Halliburton played junior college basketball at San Jacinto and scored over 2,000 points. He was the Missouri Valley Conference player of the year at Drake in 1970-71 and made the all-league team both years.

Halliburton is married to the former Stephanie Lloyd and they make their home in Atlanta.
